McGREGOR GENEALOGY

1233542

A people which take no pride in the noble achievements of remote ancestors are not likely to achieve anything worthy to be remembered, with pride, by remote descendants.

A Scotchman

ORA BUTLER LOCKER

ORA BUTLER LOCKER, a native of Marshall County, Kentucky, is descended from the McGregors, maternally. Always interested in people, she followed her natural inclination and began a long trail of searching old family records, visiting court houses and cemeteries, and corresponding with McGregor descendants all over America to query their memories. The discovery, in 1958, of the family record in her great uncle Hardy McGregor's Bible, of his original ancestor, further encouraged her in her research. Presently she resides in Paducah, Kentucky.

DEDICATION

to

MY MOTHER

Audrey McGregor Butler, I lovingly dedicate this book. Also, to my son, William Buradell Locker and to my sister, Mary Susan Peck.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The research and compilation of this genealogy of the McGregor family line have brought some of the most joyous and richly rewarding experiences of my life. The time and expense incurred have been minor compared to the enjoyment received. In my search for family records, I have met so many kind, humble people, who have been most helpful in obtaining data and information, and have seen so many wonderful old Bibles and nicely kept records. I have been to most all cemeteries mentioned herein, searched records in Hopkins, Caldwell, Livingston, Marshall, McCracken, Graves, Calloway, and Ballard Counties, Ky., The Historical Society Bldg., Frankfort, Ky., and checked all Census from 1820 through 1880, on micro-film at the University Of Ky. Library, Lexington, Ky.

No one lives to himself—or no one writes a book by himself. I offer sincere appreciation to great uncle, Hardy McGregor for the many times I called upon him, to Mona, Bunyan, Sam McGregor (now deceased) Thomas McGregor, Elmer Preston, Robert Bunyan McGregor, Levie Mc-McGregor Sledd (now deceased), Ila Waid Fisher, Ura Byerley Castleberry, Rose, Charlie, and Virgil Blackburn, Nola and Richard Board, Hardy Fox, (now deceased), Willie Whit Goodaker, Lucian Wilkey, Grace Woodall, Mable Huff, John Whorton, Viana Swinford, Alferd McGregor (now deceased), Kathleen Hayden Henderson, through correspondence, Betty Eichhorn Durant, Georgia Feldhut, Jean Littlefield, Maude Orange, Nelle Bailey, Richard Lee McGregor, and to all others, who helped in any way, my sincere thanks. Also to Mrs. Al Vahlkamp and Lois Crawford, typists, who were so patient and helped in so many ways.

It is with regret, indeed, that any families, within the McGregor family line have been omitted, for lack of contact and co-operation, or otherwise.

ORA BUTLER LOCKER

INTRODUCTION

This is a genealogy (record) of six McGregor children born in South Carolina: John, Samuel, William, James, Polly and Dison. In Commissioners Deed Book, Hopkins Co., Ky. I also found the name Moses named as an heir, and the story is that there was also a son, Levi. They left Kentucky in early 1800's. The birthplace of these children was found on 1880 Census film. On the 1820 Census micro-film, Hopkins Co., Ky., the head of the household, or father, was William. He and wife, name unknown at this date, were still listed at 1830 Census of Hopkins County, but not the 1840, which proves they passed on between 1830 and 1840, and it is believed they are buried at Lick Creek, Hopkins Co., Ky. The youngest child, Dison, 1812, born S. C., and the oldest, John, 1796, Married in 1818, Hopkins Co., Ky., which proves they came to Hopkins County, Kentucky between 1812 and 1818.

Children:

1. John, Born 4 March, 1796, Died 23 Dec., 1863, Married 12 April, 1818, Hopkins Co., Mary Franklin, Born 2 March, 1800, Died 15 Jan., 1863. They are buried at Lick Creek, Hopkins Co., Ky. Children: Filander, William, Mary J., John Mitchell, James H., and Martha. All born in Hopkins Co., Ky.

The data on his descendants was obtained from Samuel McGregor, Lucian Wilkey, Nola Wilkey Tinsley, Anna Della Franklin Brown, Ora Baker, Nellie Bailey, Les McGregor, Mrs. Hise McGregor, Grace Woodall, Edward Davis, Maude Orange, Jane Hardcastle, Lena Townzen Teague and others.

2. Samuel, Born 1798, Died 10 April, 1851, Buried at Jamison Cemetery, Livingston Co., Ky., Married 24 Feb., 1820, Hopkins Co., Ky., Elizabeth Jones, Born 1804, Died 10 Nov., 1882, Buried at Beulah Cemetery, Hopkins Co., Ky. Children, as I have record of: Viana, Pauline Jane, Millie, Mollie, Hopkins Co., Ky., Samuel Woodson, Rebecca, Livingston Co., Ky., William, Martha A., and John, Hopkins Co., Ky., Samuel lived in Livingston Co., Ky., and part of his life in Illinois, as told to me by his grandson, Samuel Woodford, Dawson Springs, Ky.

3. Elder William McGregor, Born 16 March, 1799, S. C., Died 9 Dec., 1880, Married 26 June, 1820, Hopkins Co., Ky., Elizabeth Waid, Born 22 Nov., 1802, Died 14 March, 1881. Their first 7 children: Rebecca, William Cazy, James Monroe, Levi Bartlett, Elizabeth, Dyson Adison, and Mary A. (Polly) were born in Hopkins Co., Ky. They then moved to Marshall Co., Ky., where the last 3 children, Henry Preston, Ursula Jane and Permelia Ann were born. Elder William was an old Primitive Baptist Preacher and helped to organize Middle Fork Creek Primitive Baptist Church, Marshall Co., Ky. in 1842. This was taken from the minutes of the Church, which is in the possession of Tom Harrison, Marshall Co., Ky. The children of Elder Wm., married and lived in Marshall Co., Ky., except Elizabeth, who went to Maynard, Ark., Dyson Adison, Hopkins Co., Ky.,

and Henry Preston, who went to Glen Allen, Mo., and is buried there. Elder Wm., and Wife Elizabeth, son, James Monroe and Wife, Gatlie are buried in Gibson Cemetery, Marshall Co., Ky. They lived N. W. of Benton, Ky. toward the Oak Level Community.

4. James McGregor, Born 25 March, 1804, Died 26 Aug., 1865, Married 4 July, 1825, Hopkins Co., Ky., Elizabeth Chappel, Born 25 Nov., 1808, Died 13 Oct., 1860. They are buried at Menser Cemetery, Hopkins Co., Ky. He was a prosperous farmer of the Dalton Community, Hopkins Co., where they reared their twelve children, namely: Shadrach, Alfred, Wylie, Elizabeth, James, Margaret L., Rebecca Caroline, John Marion, Avey, Barnett, Bailey and Lydia.

This family record was obtained from Mona McGregor and Robert Bunyan McGregor.

5. Polly McGregor, Born abt. 1809 (I have no correct birth date but she was 41 at the 1850 Census), born in South Carolina, Married 23 Aug., 1827 in Hopkins Co., to William Preston Fox. He was 43 at the 1850 Census. They were members of the Lick Creek Primitive Baptist Church, Hopkins Co., Ky. (Taken from minutes of the Church). She passed on 7 Aug., 1865, and he on 3 Aug., 1878, and they are buried at Lick Creek, Hopkins Co., Ky. I have very little data on the Fox line at present. Their children were: Addison, Mary C., Martha Ann, Preston, William P., Sarah J., and Rosha Lenora. They all lived in Hopkins Co., Ky. it is believed. This data was obtained from Census, Marriage records and from grandson, Hardy Fox, Dawson Springs, Ky.

6. Dison McGregor, Born 25 Feb., 1812, S. C., Died 26 Jan., 1888, Married 18 Oct., 1832, Caldwell Co., Ky., Margaret Goodaker, Born 27 July, 1816, Died 29 April, 1878, Daughter of Johnny Goodaker. Buried Goodaker Cem., Caldwell Co. Their children were: Mary, Wm. Barney, Elizabeth, John, Filander Jane, James D., William Dison, Paten Nance, Mary Serilda, Noah Bartlett, Martha Permelia and Reason Titus. This record was taken from the family Bible in the possession of grandchildren, Rose Ellen, Charlie and Virgil Blackburn. Other sources of information were: Ollie Mason, Richard L. McGregor, Arden K. Taber, Laural Neisz, Ada McGregor Dunbar, Mary Francis Holt, Nola and Richard Board and other grandchildren. Also cemetery, census and marriage records. The children were born and supposedly lived in Caldwell Co., Ky.

HISTORY OF THE CLAN MacGREGOR OF GLENORCHY

ARGYLL, SCOTLAND

WRITTEN BY

ONE DOUBLY DESCENDED FROM THE MacGREGORS

KATHLEEN HAYDEN HENDERSON

BRIEF HISTORY OF CLAN MacGREGOR

The MacGregors are usually known as the Clan of Glen Orchy (Urchy) because it was here that they first became known as a power to be reckoned with and a Clan of closely knit family ties that soon made them unique. Long before 1215 they had been identified, going back to Gregor, the son of Kenneth MacAlpine, "Hie King of Scotland". Sources differ as to their original ancestors but some contend that Hugh of Urchy was an early ancestor about three hundred years from Gregor. Other ancestors recorded are: John, Malcolm, Duncan and Duncan beg.

The Dean's Book said to have been written in 1215 traces the MacGregors back to the early kings. In this book Hugh is recorded as Kenneth's son rather than Gregor and Gregor of a later date. The Media Research Bureau, Washington, D. C., gives Gregor as a king in his own right and brother to Kenneth MacAlpine. However, most authorities, including Sir Walter Scott, give Gregor as the son of Kenneth, the son of Alpine.

The three glens of the MacGregors were in the Highlands of Scotland on the western slopes. It is a picturesque country of mountains, streams and lakes. As a matter of fact, they are slightly north of Loch Lomond, where the "gray-stone of Grigor" is a burial place of ancient MacGregors on an island of that celebrated lake. Around three streams, the Orchy, the Strae and the Lochy were their beautiful glens. Their best land was the Strath of Orchy just below its junction with the Lochy. Also MacGregors were recorded around Glendochart and Glenlyon.

These lands were given to the family by kings for service. Later through political difficulties they were usurped by other mandates. This did not dismay the MacGregors, for they continued to hold their possessions by what is known as "coir a glaive" or right of the sword. For generations, they refused to surrender their lands and used every wily scheme they could devise to retain their expansive domains. In fact, they decided to extend themselves into Perthshire and Argyllshire.

But during the reign of Queen Mary in 1563 orders were issued to stamp out the MacGregors with sword and fire. One member of the Clan was accused of murder though politics were obviously a deciding factor. This was the beginning of long bloody years of war-fare between the Clan and various authorities. Then the Clan was forbidden to use their name in 1603 but few actually abided by these laws, using another name only for legal papers. This resulted in yet another law which forbade more than four members of the Clan coming together in assembly at one time, passed in 1613. Evidentally, the family ignored this edict too, for they continued to retain considerable power and flourish.

In 1633 after the death of King James the MacGregors began to establish themselves in Perth, Stirling, Clackmannan, Menteith, Lennox, Angus and Mearns. Patrick, then Chief, expressed royal loyalty because of descent but in a letter to Montrose also expressed a desire that the Clan's grievances should be redressed and corrected. Other acts were enacted against the Clan in 1693 using the excuse that they were guilty of the Massacre of Glencoe which all denied. There is no historical evidence that they were guility and these acts were only half-heartedly enforced.

The laws were still written on the statute books while the Clan continued to fight for their birthrights. Most of their property had been seized long ago. Finally the British Parliament (1774) abolished forever the penal statutes and the MacGregors obtained full redress.

Acting upon this deed in 1795 the Clan recognized Sir John Murray (Baronet) as being descended from the ancient stock of the MacGregors Lairds, their Chief. Eight hundred and twenty-six MacGregor men capable of bearing arms, survived to sign their names to elect Sir John of Lanrick "the Griogaraich". In 1798 he bought the estate Edinchip, near Lachearnhead, in Perthshire, the present seat of the Chief. In 1873 his heir, the fifth Baronet, was born, Sir Malcolm of MacGregor and Balquihidder. His heir was Gregor of MacGregor, the present day Chief. This seems to be most appropriate and a vindication of justice!

SPELLING OF THE NAME

In old English manuscripts the name was spelled Macgregoyre. In Gaelic it is frequently spelled Grigalach and the ancestors' name Girig rather than the more Anglo-Saxon, Gregor. In ancient writings it is more often to be spelled Grigor. In Scotland "Mac" always means (with one or two exceptions) the "son of" and denotes the line of descent.

SEPTS

When families grew too large or under political pressures the clan branched off into "Septs". The Chief was head of every clan and sept while the chieftain was head of one line or sept. All septs and chieftains owed allegiance to "THE Chief".

The following are the septs of the Clan MacGregor, claiming the same original ancestors but no doubt there are many more whose origins are long lost in time:

Arrowsmith	Greig	MacAra	MacInstalker	Nice
Black	Grewar	MacAree	MacLeister	Nish
Bower	Greyson	MacCance	MacLiver	Nucator
Bowmaker	Grier	MacCansh	MacNay	Orr

THE MacALPINE CLAN

The Picts were a short dark-skinned race of people going back in time to the stone-age. Little is known of their original state as they have been absorbed by many tribes or clans as they are called in Scotland. The Picts were of Indo-European linguistic stock. They were fierce and warlike to the point of resisting many invasions.

Alpine, King of the Scots flourished as early as 787. From the Royal Picts descended his son, Kenneth MacAlpine, King of Dalriada in 844. He united the Scots and Picts into one kingdom in 850 and moved his captial to Perthshire. Individual MacAlpines are recorded from this royal family begining in the thirteenth century.

The MacGregors claim descent from Gregor, the third son of Kenneth MacAlpine, "High King of Scotland". The MacGregors are one of the most ancient clans in the "Highlands".

To distinguish themselves from the Alpine Clan Proper latter day MacGregors have substituted the oak tree for the fir in the family coat-of-arms.

THE COAT-OF-ARMS

There are several different coats-of-arms that have been used by MacGregors but for practical purposes we shall use the one which all MacGregors are entitled to use today, pictured herein and used by the Chief of Clan MacGregor. The oak tree of the emblem is sword-crossed and upon the tip of the sword rests the crown of Scotland. Upon a banner at the top is the motto in Gaelic, "S RIOGHAL MO DHREAM" which translated means, "MY RACE IS ROYAL". A crowned lion supports the banner. The present day arms also has a crowned unicorn to the left.

TARTANS

Any descendent, especially of the name may wear the Tartan or plaid of the MacGregors. This is a large plaid of green and red. There is also a hunting tartan of dark red and black. There are tartans of varying designs known as the MacGregor of Balquidder and MacGregor of Glenstrae. Rob Roy's tartan was scarlet and black in checks. Many claim this to be the original tartan of the Clan. Septs of the Clan may also wear the tartans. The tartans evolved from the Picts and once baffled Julius Ceasar because there were no Roman words that would describe their color and beauty to the somberly clad Romans. The kilt developed from the plaids around 1600 A. D. into a swathing cloth that was later shortened.

MacGREGOR MUSIC

MacGregor's Gathering is one of the oldest piobairiachds, known in ancient days as MacGregor's Salute. In 1815 Capt. Neil MacLeod of Gesto in Skye, went to great pains to translate and derive the tune for Sir Walter Scott. Alexander Campbell had previously given it canntaireachd and syllabic notation.

Another slow air the MacGregors piped is MacGregor's Lament and its sources are now lost, for it is very ancient. Helen MacGregor portrayed her anguish in a fine air still in existance, to honor her husband known as Rob Roy's Lament. Once, it is recorded Rob had his own Pipers

The MacGregor's are known to have been pipers of exceptional ability and at one time they were pipers to the Menzies. In 1718-1813 seventeen MacGregors took part in the contests at Edinburgh and twelve were first prize winners. All of them were descendents of John MacGregor (1708-1789). Four of them were his sons and eight his grandsons. They became very famous. His last known descendent won as late as 1921.

The Clan an Sgeulaiche of the MacGregors was one of the most distinguished piping families of which there is any record, being excelled only by the MacCrimmons. They maintained their own teaching school. They always sent their best piper to Skye for a year of training with the MacCrimmons.

Another notable MacGregor air is Ruaig Ghlinn Fraoin (The Rout of Glenfruin) and Campbell gave this the name MacGregor's March.

MacGREGOR'S GATHERING

Air—'Thain' a Grigalach (The MacGregor is Come)
Written by Sir Walter Scott in 1816
Complied and translated from the original

The moon's on the lake and the mist's on the brae,
And the Clan has a name that is nameless by day;
Then gather, gather, gather, Grigalach!
Gather, gather, gather, etc.

Our signal for fight, that from monarchs we drew,
Must be heard but by night in our vengeful haloo!
Then haloo, Grigalach! haloo, Grigalach!
Haloo, haloo, haloo, Grigalach, etc.

GlenOrchy's proud mountains, Coalchurn and her towers,
Glenstrae and Glenlyon no longer are ours;
We're landless, landless, landless, Grigalach!
Landless, landless, landless, etc.

But doomed and devoted by vassal and lord,
MacGregor has still both his heart and his sword!
Then courage, courage, courage, Grigalach!
Courage, courage, courage etc.

If they rob us of name and pursue us with beagles,
Give their roofs to the flame and their flesh to the eagles!
The vengeance, vengeance, vengeance, Grigalach!
Vengeance, vengeance, vengeance, etc.

While there's leaves in the forest and foam on the river,
MacGregor, despite them, shall flourish forever!
Come then, Grigalach, come then Grigalach!
Come then, come then, come then, etc.

Through the depths of Loch Katrine the steed shall career,
O'er the peak of Ben-Lomand the galley shall steer,
And the rocks of Craig Royston like icicles melt,
Ere our wrongs be forgot or our vengeance unfelt.
Then gather, gather, gather, Grigalach!

ROB ROY

Perhaps the most daring of all MacGregors, was Rob Roy also known as Robert MacGregor Campbell. His exploits have filled many volumes of fiction, poetry and ballads. Sir Walter Scott writes about him profusely, giving him the character of a Scottish Robin Hood. During the nineteenth century penny novels were widely circulated about his deeds until truth and fantasy were combined to confusion. Daniel Dafoe was intrigued into writing about Rob. Wordsworth wrote a stirring poem called "Rob Roy's Grave" which is a study in dramatic verse. Not to be out-done Hollywood has contributed a full length epic on this fascinating topic.

Rob was the son of Donald MacGregor and his mother was a Campbell, neice to the Duke of Argyll. Since Scott talked to old men who actually knew Rob, his descriptions seem to be the most reliable. He credits Rob with many good character traits; bravery-honesty-truthfulness. Scott gives him as a man kind to widows and orphans, in typical Robin Hood fashion. However, whether he was a knave or a hero usually depended upon the politics or prejudice of the narrator.

Rob descended from Dugald Ciar Mohr, the Murderer of Glenfruin. While it is not generally known this branch of the family is not legally descended since Dugald Ciar Mohr was the step-brother of an ancestor and no blood-kin. However, for all practical purposes he is known as a MacGregor. After Rob's proscription, he usually went by his mothers' name of Campbell.

Rob was born around mid-seventeenth century and is thought to have died in 1733. He is supposed to have been born at Inversnaid and is buried in the MacClaren grave-yard at Balquihidder. His property was Craig Royston, a rocky land of forest, lying on the east side of Loch Lomand. His partner made debts Rob could not pay and he lost everything he owned. This property was taken unfairly Rob thought by the Duke of Montrose. Forever seemed to be too short a time for Rob to get even with this enemy. Rob possibly believed he could have paid, given a chance.

Most writers agree that Rob's wife Helen, was an embittered and fierce woman, resenting her loss of Craig Royston most keenly. They had five sons, Coll, Ronald, James, Duncan and Robert.

While James is a name prevalent in Kentucky MacGregors there is no known evidence to this writer to support the theory that they descend from Rob. This branch of the family is said to have been in America before the Revolutionary War fighting beside Francis Marion, "THE SWAMP FOX". Rob's James fought at Prestonpans and Culloden in Scotland. It is possible however, that one of his sons could have been in America in the Revolution, but only speculation. James had fourteen children. This writer has spent years in research on this subject and welcomes any information that might lead to a conclusion, either pro or con.
